DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Newly amended claim 8 and newly added claim 40 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: These claims and their dependant claims are drawn to a non elected embodiment of a door which radially pivots about an attachment point. The applicant elected in the office action of 12/21/06 a door which slides open and closed.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 8-44 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,532,699 to Franklin et al.

Regarding claim 1, Franklin discloses a structure which has a double layered wall (fig. 6: 114, 112 & both inside and outside of wall fig. 10: 110, 144), the door (24) is positioned between the wall layers, and the door is configured to allow passage through an entranceway into the structure. Franklin does not particularly disclose the structure as being collapsible. However, Franklin discloses portable structures (column 1, lines 29-32). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the structure portable in order to relocate to better surroundings affording better lighting, a portable structure would have components that are removable, or collapsible, such as removable shelving, removable doors, etc, in order to aid in the relocation of the structure.

Regarding claim 2, Franklin discloses the door as fitting within the double layered wall (fig. 6: 114). The door shape is a shape capable of acting as a fan, pushing air.

Regarding claim 4, Franklin discloses the door as sliding and fitted between the layers (114).

Regarding claim 5, Franklin discloses a reinforcement member (132) coupled to the door).

Regarding claim 6, Franklin discloses the door as having a fastener (126) coupled to it.

Regarding claim 7, Franklin discloses the door as flexible (column 2, line 49).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/21/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues the shape of a "fan shape". The applicant should note that although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26

USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Therefore, the "fan" shape may be a shape general capable of "fanning". A typical door is capable of this. Regarding the applicant's argument of the prior art, they are moot under new grounds of rejections necessitated by the applicant's amendment.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The cited patents listed on the included form PTO-892 further show the state of the art with respect to sliding doors in general.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
